Dear Faithful Partners,

Saturday 10/26 was a day for rest and fellowship with loved ones. This young couple (below left) have come to see me as a father figure over the years and call me "Papa Chico." They gifted me with this traditional garment, called a Gabi, that one gives to someone they honor. On the right is their one-year-old Pavlos.

Yanet to my left and Kalu to my right.

Kalu is disciple of mine and a very active leader both in His local church, as well as neighboring churches across denominational lines. He also serves at the denominational level with EUCE. Kalu partners with TMMI as a translator for me at trainings and various scenarios as well as helping to translate our written materials from English to Amharic. Yanet and Kalu compose and record original worship music. They are currently working on their first album to be released in the near future. This team is a great asset to TMMI and will be well into the future. Please remember to thank God for them and keep them in your prayers.

I have known this little fellow (pictured below) since he was a couple of weeks old when I was invited by his parents and extended family to visit in their home and dedicate "Beki" to the Lord. We visit each time I am in Ethiopia and Beki and I have become very bonded to each other. I was very blessed to have his dad bring him to my hotel for a visit!

On Sunday 10/27 I was blessed to worship with and bring the Word of God to this young and growing church of five years here in Adama (pictured below). What an absolute blessing to be in fellowship with this group of believers so focused on their Lord Jesus and the community around them!

We have one more round of training in Adama starting tomorrow Monday through Tuesday before moving on to Abar Minch to train on Thursday/Friday. I will keep you updated.

May God bless you all for your faithful prayers, partnership, support and encouragement in ministry.
